Plymouth Church declined the invitation, and resolved that the calling of this ex parte Council to consider the affairs of a Church which has not desired mutual council is the consummation of a course of proceeding which is irregular and unwarrantable; that we felt bound to protest against it from the beginning; that we recognize in the statement and invitation a persistent attempt to put this Church under accusation and trial. To-day a man named Munson, who keeps a saloon near the foot of Fourth street, went to the collector's office and reported that Wm. C. Fowler, a rival in business, was selling liquor without license. This came to Fowler's knowledge, and to-night the parties met, when Fowler drew a revolver and told Munson he would shoot him, and then fired. The ball took effect, breaking Munson's arm. Fowler gave himself into custody, and says he only intended to frighten Munson. He is charged with assault to murder.

A meeting of women crusaders was held last evening, and an organization effected which is independent of the Women's Temperance Union. The members of the meeting seemed to think that the Union is not prosecuting the work with sufficient vigor. They call themselves the crusaders.

GENERAL NOTES.

Dr Louis A. Sayre, of Bellevue Hospital, New York, has examined the bodies of the Siamese twins, and is convinced they might have been safely separated by constriction of the band with a silver wire until the flesh was gradually cut through and sloughed off.

A suit is threatened in Adrian, Mich., which, if prosecuted, will give the liquor law of 1873 a new application. Instead of a wife claiming damages for liquor sold her husband, it is the husband that now seeks compensation for beverages sold to his wife, and to make the affair still more [illegible], the person of whom damages are demanded is a woman whose only means of support is a little saloon which the city authorizes her to keep on the payment of $[illegible] a year.

The steward of the [illegible] committed suicide on the voyage between Havana and New Orleans, and thus the Captain's log records it: "The steward went in the cabin with the dish basket. Heard report. The carpenter sung out 'My God, he has shot himself.' Found him on the [illegible] and found a bullet hole in his right temple. Then laid him on a plank in starboard gangway. Hauled down [illegible] and aft sails, hauled yard aback, read funeral ceremony and launched him into the deep."

The Richmond Enquirer says that the trial of McCarty for the killing of Mordecai in a duel near that city a few months ago developed the fact that no offense had been committed against the anti-dueling statute of Virginia. That statute denounces as murder the killing in a duel fought without the State by any resident of Virginia upon a previous agreement made within the State, but is entirely silent as to any such killing within the limits of the commonwealth, and it is left as merely an offense at common law, which accounts for the curious verdict of the jury.

KOSSUTH.—A New York dispatch of March 16th says: Max Schlesinger, in a letter to the London News, denounces as an imposture the published interview attributed to him exposing Louis Kossuth's poverty and destitution. The evidence is now abundant that the Hungarian patriot is in comfortable circumstances.

The letters purporting to have been written from Los Gatos by Greathouse, the missing miller, turn out to have been forgeries, and the mysterious disappearance of the man is as mysterious as ever.

THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

[illegible] ATTORNEY GENERAL WILLIAMS' PROPERTY IN WASHINGTON [illegible] ASSESSMENTS [illegible] PROPERTY

WASHINGTON, March 1[illegible].—The members of the Committee on the District Investigation have been sifting up the whole subject committed to them, and many facts connected with the irregular expenditure of money have been called to the attention of individual members. The following are specimens of a class. In reply to a letter [illegible] Gov Shepherd in October last an [illegible] was issued reading as follows:

BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS, DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA, WASHINGTON,
October 11, 1873.

M[illegible] Pl[illegible] and Clarke—GENTLEMEN: You are hereby requested to grade and fix the property of Attorney-General Williams to the satisfaction of Mr Williams. This work must be commenced at once, and finished without delay. By order of the Board.

Very respectfully,
CLEMENT HILL,
General Inspector.

The work in this case was done by Raley and Clarke, and was for grading inside of private property and not for streets. The Board of Public Works paid on this $2 [illegible]. Of this, part was charged to an alley in the rear of the property, part to an avenue where these contractors never worked, and in fact to the grading of a square two streets away from the property. The cellar of the house, as stated to members of the Committee, was dug by public teams and workmen. Besides, work to the amount of $1,892 was done by these contractors on the same property under the above order, which remains unpaid. These contractors also filled up a certain lot for which Dr Blake, a member of the Board of Public Works, is the agent, at a cost of $1,150. This was also paid in certificates and charged to an avenue where these contractors never worked.

Testimony has also been offered to show that grading and sodding has been done around the property of two Senators. An assessment upon one square has been discovered where the cost, as shown by the Auditor's figures, was $4 [illegible] and the assessments were $10,000, or $6,000 above the amount paid by the Board. Two cases have been ascertained where improvement certificates for large amounts were issued against property of prominent citizens and sold in New York when the assessments on some of the property had been almost entirely paid here.

SOME FINE FELLOWS

The gushing "Olivia" informs the readers of the Press that "Carl Schurz has a voice like the wind sighing through the sugar cane, and his classical English floats in a sea of rhythmical measure." We had an idea that it did something like this, but we were not quite sure. "Morton, the highly gifted product of the great State of Indiana, is another sort of man. . . . there is something about his head which bears a striking resemblance to the portraits of Webster" (we do not know what it can be except his hat) "and his arguments are hurled at his opponent as cannon balls fly to kill the enemy." No breezes soughing through the cane for him, no "velvet flute-like tones that ravish the soul like the heavenly melodies of Beethoven." Those are Carl's. "But Morton, while he has a rugged side to his intellect, has also another as fascinating as that said to be possessed by Aaron Burr or Mirabeau." Olivia truly says that "men may not agree with this opinion," but this is because "they never can see that point—of his character which is revealed to woman alone." We should rather think not. "Men, Olivia tells us, only see the surface of men; it is left to women to go down into the depths and bring up the pearls and coral, and vice versa." We take this last clause to mean that the pearls and corals go down into the depths and bring up the women. But Olivia reserves her warmest admiration for no less a person than Hipple Mitchell of Oregon. "Those who only know Ben Holladay's much married attorney by his numerous names will be surprised to learn that he is tall, elegant and graceful, with a singular purity of complexion, his head crowned by a glory of chestnut hair such as the ancient painters used to delight to transfer to their canvas; large blue eyes such as Raphael gave his Madonnas." Such was John Hipple, and such is John Mitchell. Olivia thinks it no wonder that he fell into trouble with women. "Will water fall when the clouds are moist?" she asks. "Will labor seek the neighborhood of capital?" Alas! Will a duck swim? And H. M. is such a duck. "He is not to blame," the gentle Olivia says, "because he is the handsomest man in the Senate"; he did not make himself. And suppose he did make mistakes "before the sense of right and justice was crystallized in his mind"—did you never hear of Venus and Adonis, and Adam and Eve? We knew that the honorable Senator had three wives, which showed him to be something of a lady killer, but all this loveliness is rather stunning. We wonder, by the way, if the sense of right and justice was crystallized in him at [illegible] at the time he bought [illegible] to the Senate.—Philadelphia Telegraph.

GOOD FOR THIS DAY ONLY

The New York Journal of Commerce criticises the decision of the Commission of Appeals that a railroad ticket does not constitute a contract, but is a mere token or voucher showing that the plaintiff had paid his fare and was entitled to a passage thereon indicated. The authorities go thus far, but they [illegible] the Journal thinks leave the ticket holder the alternative of maintaining that the ticket not being itself a contract, its conditions are not binding upon him. We quote:

The company having taken his money for passage are bound to give him one, without reference to the ticket or its stipulation. If he [illegible] except in having his ticket he did not observe the restriction printed thereon, what right has the Court to presume that he thereby assented to the limitation of his journey unless he took passage on a particular day.

The Commission of Appeals do not venture to affirm in plain terms that the ticket holder [illegible] anywhere bind himself to such an understanding. They hold that railroad companies carrying passengers have the right to make reasonable rules and regulations for conducting their business, and they find their agent [illegible] in enforcing them in a proper manner. So under the power of making rules and regulations for conducting their business, it seems that railroad companies may take money for performing a service and keep the money without making any return whatever for it. If that be law, it is at least not equity.

We should like, however, at least to see a case made in order to determine whether a railroad company, upon refusing to honor a ticket except upon the day of its date, cannot be compelled to refund the money paid for it. Otherwise they have the right of confiscation.

THE [illegible] TIME COMING.—No woman now goes to the wash tub or a fox hunt, to pruning grape vines, gardening, or vegetable growing with corsets on. So we hope the day will come when horrible head dresses, ladies' frills and furbelows, monstrous bonnets and trailing skirts will disappear—the other vulgar things—from the promenade, the street, the church and such other public places as are manifestly inappropriate for them. There is a time and place for everything, and ladies need only recognize this fact in connection with their costumes to always dress sensibly and healthily.—Home Journal.

Farmers in Washington county are plowing now wherever the ground is dry enough. A large breadth of grain will be sown this year—larger than any preceding year in the county.

THE TERRITORIES

Thirty dollars have been subscribed to the Good Templars library at Vancouver.

Nine marriage licenses have been issued in Clarke county, W. T., since January 1st.

A woman at Vancouver cautions the public not to trust her husband on her account.

An effort will soon be made to establish a Lodge of the Knights of Pythias in Vancouver.

Don't all rush! Gold has been discovered at Tacoma. The color was faint, and the first rush of excitement has died out.

Mrs. C. Buell, of Woodland, Yolo county, Cal., is very anxious to learn the whereabouts of Leonard Buell, who is supposed to be somewhere in Idaho Territory.

A grand musical entertainment is to be given at the Dalles on Saturday evening the 28th instant, under the auspices of the Ladies of the Good Templars' Lodge at that place.

The lady members of the families of several Masonic brethren are endeavoring to procure the appropriate jewels and paraphernalia for a Chapter of the Eastern Star in Vancouver.

A correspondent of the Register thinks people are foolish for going to Stickeen and the north pole in search of gold, while the Vancouver gold and silver mines six miles back of that town lie undeveloped.

It is said that William De Lacy, the celebrated Idaho mail contractor, turns out to be a straw man, set up by some party desirous of monopolizing the business of carrying the mails, and John Early, who was the lowest real bidder, has gone on to Washington to claim his contract.

A friend writing to the Vancouver Register from Mill Plain says the breadth of grain sown by the farmers far exceeds any year in the history of farming on said Plain, and with a favorable season there will not be less than 40,000 bushels of grain raised. The merchants of Vancouver are admonished to look out for a good trade from this section.

In the Congressional Record of February 23d we find that Mr Fort, from the Committee on Territories, reported to the House a bill to forbid the Territories of the United States and the counties, cities and towns therein, to incur indebtedness in aid of railroad companies or other private corporations, which was read a first and second time and ordered printed, and recommitted, not to be brought back on a motion to reconsider.

Deer Lodge, Montana, caught it from an old fashioned thousand horse power gale on Sunday, the 1st instant. About 10 A. M., when it was blowing great guns, when signs were flying "hither and yon," and dust sweeping in blinding clouds, the frame of the Presbyterian church in course of erection was carried down with a crash that startled half the town, and the architectural pride of the village was humbled unto the earth.

Two subordinate Granges have been established in Clarke county, one at Brush Prairie and the other on Mill Plain. The latter was organized by Grand Master Clark, March 9th, with the following officers: Master, H. M. Knapp; Overseer, J. J. Lovelace; Lecturer, Hamilton Graham; Steward, A. F. David; Assistant Steward, David Stamp; Chaplain, —— Vincent; Treasurer, A. Lovelace; Secretary, G. W. Evans; Gate Keeper, J. Wigonblast; Ceres, Mrs Knapp; Pomona, Mrs Payne; Flora, Miss Sarah Smith; Lady Assistant Steward, Mrs Lovelace.

From the Philadelphia Press we see that it is the intention of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company to commence work immediately on the West Division of that road, and push the work as fast as possible. Two hundred and thirty miles of road, it is asserted by the company, will be completed this year. The Press says the company will devote its entire attention to the Western Division the coming year, considering it unwise under the present hostile attitude of the Indian tribes west of the Missouri to attempt to complete any great portion of the Eastern Division this season. The company claims to be in good financial condition, notwithstanding the many newspaper reports to the contrary.

A Montana paper says: "From reliable information we learn that the Northern Pacific Railroad Company are making strenuous efforts to continue their road from Bismarck to the Yellowstone crossing. All connected with that road are industriously at work to put the affairs of the company in a shape to prosecute the work in the spring. They feel great confidence in their ability to raise the necessary means to keep on building the road. All interested are impressed with the necessity of extending it to Montana at the earliest moment possible, and we are assured that in a very short time the company will announce the result of present negotiations, which they do not doubt will be highly successful."

A huge monstrosity, which seemed to be a cuttle fish, was caught by an Indian at Olympia last week. It is thus described by the [illegible]: It was probably seven feet long, and had eight long arms radiating from the body, which would measure from tip to tip when extended some eight feet. The head and body appeared to be a mass of jelly, without form and certainly not comeliness. The arms appeared to be firmer or more like gristle, and were lined on the under side their entire length with cup shaped suckers, ranging in size from the largeness of a pea to nearly two inches in diameter. They evidently would make their power felt if once fastened upon any one in the water. An Indian was drowned by one near Tumwater a few years ago, and the Indians all think it a devil. We found by actual count that there were [illegible] suckers on each arm, which would give [illegible] on the entire fish.

The [illegible] of March [illegible] says: It was rumored in Olympia this morning, as we learn from a passenger down on the Alida, that George S. Wright had been awarded the contract for carrying the mails on the Sound, and from Tacoma instead of Olympia, receiving therefor $[illegible],000 per annum. It is also reported that Finch, Wright and the Starrs have formed a powerful combination to control the entire trade and travel on these waters, having the three best mail contracts, unlimited capital, and the support of the O. S. N. and N. P. R. R. Companies to back them, and owning in the Olympia and North Pacific the swiftest boats on the coast, besides the Alida, Isabel, Fleetwood, Wilson G. Hunt, and [illegible]. Another rumor, and with some foundation, is that Capt. Finch is bent on [illegible] and went to San Francisco last week for no other purpose than to purchase the S. M. Whipple and run her from Olympia as an opposition boat.

A Chinaman and an Indian were joined in wedlock at Corvallis last week.

Beef on foot is bringing [illegible] cents per lb at the Dalles; mutton and pork [illegible].

Ben Simpson will assume the duties of Surveyor General of Oregon about the 1st of April.

Col. J. R. Moores, of Salem, who has been seriously ill for a long time, is again able to be out.

A case of smallpox is reported at Salem. It is a young girl who arrived recently from California.

The amount of lager beer made in Oregon last year was 240,000—not quite a keg a piece for the people.

Fifteen acres of land adjoining the town site of Forest Grove on the southeast was sold a few days ago for $1,200.

Seven criminal cases are on the docket for disposal at the term of the Circuit Court in Linn county, which begins this week.

Rev. S. C. Adams has received his chronological charts of the world's history, mountings and all, and is now ready to deliver them to subscribers.

Benton county has [illegible] persons and firms each of whom pays over $100 as taxes. Of these 10 pay over $200, 4 over $300, 1 pays $499 30, and 1 $815 13.

Clarence Durbin, of Salem, was riding on horseback at a rapid rate the other day, when the animal which he was on fell, and the boy's leg was caught and broken.

Junction City contains five secret societies, viz: Good Templars, Grangers, Masons, Odd Fellows and Champions of Red Cross—all in a flourishing condition. There are two schools, with about forty scholars each.

Some 14 young men of the Dalles have organized a Young Men's Christian Association, and have elected the following officers: Geo. C. Hall, President; Wayland Fisher, Vice-President; Jesse Crandall, Recording Secretary; Harry Bird, Corresponding Secretary; Benj. H. Robinson, Treasurer.

Frank Hibler was arrested on Friday evening at Salem while in the act of setting fire to a barn. The accused made no denial. He held others equally as guilty as himself, and waived an examination until the 23d inst. In default of $1,000 bail he was committed to jail. They have been on the look out for an incendiary for some time.

The funeral services of Mrs. Lyman last Wednesday at the Congregational Church at Forest Grove were largely attended by relatives and friends of the deceased. Rev. Thomas Condon read the obituary descriptive of her character and life. Dr. Atkinson, of Portland, preached the sermon, which was an excellent discourse.

On Friday evening Grand Commander C. L. Burrows organized Salem Encampment No. —, I. O. R. C. The following officers were duly elected and installed to serve during the ensuing term: C. N. Terry, E. C.; [illegible] D. McFadden, [illegible]; Mrs. Hattie Bowker, S. C.; W. P. Keady, W. S.; Osmon Royal, W. T.; C. L. Burrows, Captain of the Host.

A petition has been circulated and almost universally signed by the ladies of Corvallis, praying the Common Council to repeal all laws providing for the granting of licenses to liquor dealers, setting forth the fact that the alarming extent to which intemperance prevails demanded that wives, mothers and sisters do make an effort to save those near and dear to them from the fearful abyss into which drunkenness threatened to engulf the world.

Mr. A. Lee, of the firm of Lee & Loughlin, who owns the saw and planing mills at the lower end of Wapato Lake, met with an accident that came very near having a serious termination. While the planer was in operation he stooped over to pick up something he had dropped, and a screw set on a shaft caught his clothes about the breast and jerked him down into some of the running gear, when the machinery stopped. Mr. Lee suffered some bruises about the head and chest.

The following resolution was offered by W. W. Brooks at the late meeting of Rock Point Farmers' Club, Marion county, and was adopted: Resolved, That as the offices of Sheriff and Clerk are the bone of political contention among the wire workers of this county, we hereby pledge ourselves to the support of competent and trustworthy men who will obligate themselves to faithfully discharge the duties of said offices for a consideration not to exceed $3,000 each per annum, the excess of which to be given to the County School Fund.

The Salem Statesman of last Saturday says: Dr. Dawne has handed us a letter which he has just received from Dr. J. B. Applewhite, who was here some time ago, written at Omaha on the 4th of March. In the letter Dr. Applewhite states that he, with a colony of 42 persons, is on the way to Oregon to locate. They will probably arrive at Portland by the next steamer from San Francisco and will look out at once for places of location. This company has been induced to come into our State through Dr. Dawne's representations, and besides being an industrious community, represent a capital of $100,000. These are the kind of people our State needs, and we have room for millions more.

The Republican primaries were held in Salem on Friday. The following persons were elected delegates from the three wards to the County Convention: A. A. McCully, J. G. Wright, Ed. Hirsch, A. A letter from Willow Forks, Umatilla county, dated March 11th, says: "The past winter has been very hard on stock. Up toward the foot of the Blue Mountains a great many cattle and sheep have died, and are still dying. Horses have lived through, but to be very thin. The grass is very poor for this time of year, as the weather is cold and stormy. The farmers of this vicinity are generally pretty nearly through putting in their crops. Everything is extremely dull on account of there being no money in circulation. We have little or no beef cattle that are fat enough for the market, for the reason that there are no buyers here. Cows with young calves are worth from $1[illegible] to $[illegible]; yearlings from $6 to $8; two year olds from $10 to $[illegible], and but very few selling at these figures. Sheep are very high, but I know of no sales. Horses are cheap and not selling."

The Salem Statesman says: We have just been shown a letter received by a gentleman in this city from a friend at Heppner, Umatilla county, under date of March 4th, which shows stock in that section to be in a terrible condition. The writer says they have had almost a continual snow storm since the first of December. On that date snow fell to the depth of one foot and remained on the ground four weeks. About six inches of snow has fallen every ten days since then, and continually melting off has drenched the grass so that stock is in a very bad condition. He says the condition of all stock in that vicinity may be expressed in three words, "Dead and dying." He speaks of one band of sheep of [illegible] head, out of which 2,000 have died. The weather has not been severely cold, but they have had so much snow that feed has all gone, and many who have fed for three months are now obliged to see their stock lie down and die.

COOS BAY ITEMS.

The rough weather has delayed mails between Coos Bay and Roseburg. We publish the following from our Eugene City correspondent. His letter bears date of March 10th.

The steamer Messenger has stopped running for a time, owing to a change in the management and sale of stock. Nat. H. Lane and W. H. Troup have retired.

The vessels in course of construction at Marshfield and North Bend are being put together with dispatch. These new crafts will be in their native element by August next.

The community has been called upon to mourn the loss of three young girls who have died within a short time. The disease was something similar in each case—typhoid fever.

Captain McAllop, of the Emily [illegible], purchased the wreck of the Jennie Thelin for $1,800 [we mentioned the loss of this vessel in our issue of the 16th]. The vessel was insured for $8,000.

Arrived, week ending to-day: Schooners Big River, Aurora, R. H. Ramsdell, H. L. Tiernan, and brig Josephine. Sailed: schooners Ivanhoe, [illegible] and Concordia, and steamer [illegible] and [illegible].

AN INCIDENT AT A GOVERNOR'S RECEPTION.—The third of Gov. Beveridge's receptions in Springfield, Ill., on Tuesday night, was marked by an incident which the Journal, of that place, describes as follows: "At 9 o'clock the music and dancing began, and under the inspiration of the especially fortunate circumstances of the occasion, everybody was happy and joyous, when, without the least warning of flicker or flutter, every light in the house was extinguished. Many were the supposed causes. A Senator said he had overheard a Methodist and Presbyterian clergyman planning just that way of stopping the wicked dancing and card-playing to be indulged in, but supposed that they were joking. Another said that burglars were in the yard and house, and had turned off the gas to assist them in gathering jewelry. Two candles were found and borne about in stately style amid the people, who at first were much bewildered, but they soon made merry over the episode. A gasman was sent for, found that the trouble was caused by water in the meter in the cellar, remedied the trouble, and, the number of the guests having been somewhat reduced, the dancing was resumed and a happier time had than if the accident had not happened."

Gen. Wolseley, of Ashantee fame, will go to Malta in order to meet the remains of Dr. Livingstone and accompany them to London.

CALL FOR AN INDEPENDENT STATE CONVENTION.

The Douglas County Independent Tax Payers Convention having assembled this 25th day of February, 1874, and nominated a full Legislative and County ticket, and having adjourned in full harmony, a large majority of the members then assembled, and having organized for the purpose of recommending an Independent State ticket, the following resolution, on motion, was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That in the opinion of this Convention the interests of the people of Oregon will be better subserved by independent political action than by strict adherence to existing party organizations, and that the people of the several counties of the State be and hereby are requested to select delegates to an Independent State Convention to be held at Salem on the 15th day of April, A. D. 1874, at 10 o'clock A. M., for the purpose of nominating a State ticket, to be presented to the voters at the coming election.

This Convention recommends that in selecting such delegates the basis of apportionment be one delegate for every 200 votes cast at the election of 1872 for Wilson and Burnett, and one additional delegate for a fraction of 100 votes or over. Upon this basis the number of delegates from the respective counties will be as follows:

	Total Vote	Delegates
Baker	912	5
Benton	1 2[illegible]2	6
Clackamas	1 490	7
Clatsop	[illegible]	2
Coos	[illegible]	3
Curry	[illegible]	1
Columbia	[illegible]	1
Douglas	1 8[illegible]	9
Grant	614	[illegible]
Jackson	1 [illegible]	5
Josephine	[illegible]	2
Lane	1 8[illegible]	9
Linn	2 107	11
Marion	2 475	12
Multnomah	3 249	16
Polk	1 170	6
Tillamook	167	[illegible]
Umatilla	[illegible]	5
Union	914	5
Washington	887	4
Wasco	[illegible]	[illegible]
Yamhill	1 212	6
Total		1[illegible]7

On motion the Convention further recommended that the people throughout the State assemble in their respective precincts on Saturday, March 28th, and elect delegates to assemble in County Conventions on Saturday, April 4, 1874, except in those counties where steps have already been taken to choose delegates for meeting at some other time, and there elect delegates according to the above apportionment to meet in State Convention to nominate State officers.

On motion the Convention adjourned, there being 70 delegates present and the proceedings marked by complete unanimity and harmony.

GOVERNOR GROVER'S DEFENSE

The Evening News in reply to our remarks upon the very remarkable character of those "struggles" which Governor Grover, according to his speech of acceptance, has been maintaining with such astonishing vigor for twenty three years in Oregon, and goodness knows how long in other countries, intimates we were anxious to discover some ground upon which to find fault with His Excellency It would be but natural for us to be open to conviction as to the shortcomings of the Democratic standard-bearer, and it may be at all events it is possible, that we have not been able to view either his administration or his style of political management from that standpoint of partiality which doubtless has helped his admirers to overlook the faults in both or rendered them incapable of seeing that such faults existed Still we disavow all feeling toward His Excellency, as a politician or as a public officer, which would prompt us to seek out faults in him of which we would make no note if they were attributable to some other person It is not from partisan considerations that we regard his administration as liable to criticism in many respects for while we fully believe in the correctness of the doctrines of the Republicans in relation to the powers and rights of the general government, the State governments and the people, respectively, we can not see that those questions have had or could have had anything whatever to do with the administration of the State government of Oregon since Governor Grover's election No emergency has taken place during his term that called for the recognition of the Democratic or the Republican theory, and from present appearances it is perfectly safe to predict that no such emergency will arise during the next four years. It is just as immaterial, under present circumstances, whether the State of Oregon have a Democratic or a Republican Governor, as it is whether it have a Presbyterian or a Methodist Governor If we have a thoroughly conscientious man devoted to the welfare of the people as every Governor should be, and possessed of a reasonable degree of intelligence, we shall have the affairs of the Executive Department of the State, so conducted that a stranger coming into our State and acquainting himself with the condition of the Government without inquiring as to the political connections of the officers, would be unable to tell whether the Democrats or the Republicans were in the ascendency There is nothing between the two parties that can possibly affect the course of the Executive of Oregon, if he is an honest man

So it can not be a merely partisan opposition to Governor Grover's re-election that inspires our criticism While, in our opinion, he has proved unequal to the demands of his position and allowed [illegible] to do for his political or personal friends what his own judgment condemned, he has nevertheless made a reasonably good Governor in most respects. But when he tells the world that he has been for all these years struggling—not passively wishing but actively struggling—for the success of all the principles laid down in the Albany platform he tells the world what a large portion of it will not accept without very considerable grains of allowance The News makes the best possible case for His Excellency when it says he approved the "Litigant Act," and the act increasing the compensation of Clerks and Sheriffs, both of which the Albany platform condemns because the Legislature passed them, and it is not customary for the Governor to veto acts duly passed which are free from constitutional objection This explanation is specious, and has some little show of foundation in fact Still, when the history of the exercise of the veto power is examined, it must be confessed the exceptions to the rule stated by the News are about as numerous as the occasions when it has been followed

But the explanation is unsatisfactory, even if the custom mentioned by the News were admitted to be general The Governor says he "struggled" in this matter What masterly struggling! How self-sacrificing, courageous, strong! Acts are passed by the Legislature which his party platform, his newspaper advocate and himself, all declare to be wrong in principle, and he appends to them his signature, without which they could not become laws, and why? Because, forsooth, there exists a rule of etiquette, which would be far more highly honored in the breach than in the observance, and according to which, the Governor is expected to approve all laws that are Constitutional As we said, the News makes the best defense that it is possible to make for the Governor, and when one examines that defense carefully, it is found to be utterly insufficient The Governor would have saved himself and his friends from an awkward situation if he had modified the tone of his eulogium upon himself, so as to make it conform more nearly with the facts as history has them recorded

CERTAINLY

The News says our correspondent at Salem did not correctly report the reasons assigned by Hon J H Slater for his appearing as the proxy of Mr. LaDow, at the ratification meeting at Salem Our correspondent stated that Mr Slater said he appeared for Mr LaDow because that gentleman could not speak, or words to that effect The News says this remark was made with reference to Mr A H Brown, the candidate for State Treasurer We have had no opportunity of seeing Mr Slater to ascertain just what he did say, but think it not unlikely that our correspondent mistook what Mr Slater said in regard to Brown for a part of his remarks explaining the non appearance of Mr La Dow. We have no desire to misrepresent any one and would sooner commit the error of too favorable comment than that of unjust criticism Especially can we afford to be generous toward Mr LaDow The certainty of his defeat by the Independent candidate is enough for him to bear and enough for us to enjoy

THOSE PRIMARIES

The Republican primaries in this city last Saturday had the smallest attendance that has ever been witnessed There were less than half as many votes cast as there were at the primaries that preceded the special Congressional election last fall These primaries were regarded as a complete fizzle but those of Saturday were not even half so large The precinct of North Portland for instance which is one of the three big precincts and which at the last general election polled 862 votes, 200 of which were republican cast in last Saturday's primary only 32 votes And even this was a larger poll in proportion to the strength of the precinct than the other precincts showed We were at one polling place at the hour designated for the primaries as an observer of events, and there was not a single person there We went away and in half an hour returned again, and still there was no person there We learn there were but three votes cast at one of the large precincts and those three votes elected more delegates than there were of themselves The tickets for all the precincts had been agreed upon in the meeting of the managers before hand, and were printed ready for use Of course the ticket was elected, There was no other ticket than the ticket voted for and it was not voted for to any considerable extent But the delegates agreed upon beforehand, will be furnished with credentials in due form and will take their seats in the County Convention just as if they had been chosen by the Republicans of the county

THE LANE COUNTY TICKET

The Lane County Independent Convention met at Eugene last Saturday pursuant to call, and nominated the following ticket

For State Senator, H N Hill Representatives, Allen Bond, T D Edwards, George Day and R V Howard, County Judge, Geo B Dorris, Clerk, Joel Ware, Sheriff P. Cheshire, County Commissioners, John Bailey and V S McClure, Treasurer, J W Skaggs, Surveyor, M Wilkins School Superintendent, R G Callison.

The delegates to the State Convention are C H Wallace, H N Hill M Wilkins, H H Gale, William Harpole and T D. Edwards

The ticket is about equally divided between Democrats and Republicans, and the delegation to the State Convention is just equally divided Harmony and good feeling prevailed in the Convention, and the ticket is received with general favor A correspondent at Eugene, who is in a situation to know the state of the public mind as well as any man in Lane county, writes that the ticket will be elected beyond a doubt, and by a large majority, and that nearly all the leading men of both parties openly endorse the movement

MARION COUNTY

The Statesman publishes another long list of signers to the Independent call for Marion county Meanwhile some of the principal candidates on the Democratic ticket which was nominated some two weeks since have withdrawn Thus fares it with the "straight-outs" This is not a good year for whipping in The spirit of old Roger Williams has found a place in politics as well as religion, and freemen insist upon being free The handwriting is on the wall and they act wisely who heed its warning Between "Reform now" and "Revolution hereafter," the people have resolved in favor of reform now, and there is no human power that can stay them They can not be wrong when they are simply demanding what is right and they who oppose them will be themselves the sufferers "Keep out of the way of the engine"

COMING OUT FROM AMONG THEM

Hon James F Amis, who represented Lane county in the next to the last Legislature, was a delegate to the recent Democratic County Convention of that county, where he saw some things that opened his eyes wider than they had been opened for many a day He has got enough of party politics He therefore writes a vigorous good-bye to the organization so far as the present campaign is concerned which we transcribe from the Eugene Hawk Eye

I perceive that the laboring masses are in earnest that they mean to snap asunder their old party manacles and assert their freedom and that the days of party tricksters and ring manipulators are numbered As one humble plowman allow me to cast my lot with them Put me on the call A careful study of the declaration of principles over which they are rallying enables me to rejoice in the fact that any Democrat may endorse them without renouncing the foundation principles of old time Democracy or true Republicanism

Recent developments in the Democratic primaries and in the County Convention of last Saturday have been of such a character as to disgust any [illegible] minded man and make him renounce his connection with the organization in this county Who but one whose mind is besotted with party slavery will say that it did not forfeit its claim to the respect of any gentleman when it suffered itself controlled as it did in convention Saturday last by one or two office seekers in their own interest Just as though the salvation of the whole party and everything else depended upon their success! Think too of the high position to which one of these individuals aspires his ability to fill that position and think of the means he is using to get there My country deserves better things than these! Let Down with party trickery knavery and demagoguism office seekers and party schemers and up with the hard handed laborer! be the rallying cry of the people and all will be well Respectfully

J F AMIS

AFTER THE POLYGAMISTS

If the Washington correspondence of the Pittsburg Leader is to be relied upon for a correct statement of the disposition of Congress on the polygamy question our own Junior Senator is in danger of having his liberties very materially abridged Ostensibly the object of the proposed action of Congress is the suppression in Utah of that great immorality which prevails there more generally than in the Senate, but the law will it is supposed apply throughout the nation. The correspondent says

Eventually there is going to be trouble for the followers of Brigham Young out in Utah The question of polygamy in this country has several times occupied the serious attention of Congress, but the measures submitted for its removal have been so stringent that Congress has declined to put itself in the position where a charge of religious prosecution could be made and the result is nothing as yet has been done But it appears that definite action will be early taken upon this subject The Committee upon Territories, of which McKee of Mississippi is Chairman, has proposed a bill upon the subject which will soon be reported Two bills in fact are prepared one by the majority of the committee, and one by the minority The majority bill is a very stringent one and one of its features is that all bigamists be disfranchised The women of Utah are also to be disfranchised by this bill The minority bill will merely provide for the proper enforcement of the laws of the United States without providing for any special restrictions or penalties for the people of Utah different from that of any other State They must obey the general laws that is all This will if passed and enforced do away with polygamy as a matter of course Talking with a well informed member of the House to-day upon the probability of one of the bills passing, he said that the majority bill would be rejected but that the minority bill would in all probability be passed The sense of the House he was quite sure was that Utah should be no exception under the general laws of the country

To the fixing of salaries there is no end Representative Geo W Dean of New York, has presented to the House of Representatives a plan for the compensation of the chosen ones It is a bill which provides that Senators and Representatives shall receive compensation on and after the 4th day of March 1875 as follows When the balance of trade with foreign countries is against our people, each Senator shall receive $5 000 and each Representative $3,000 per annum, and when the balance of trade with foreign countries is in our people's favor each Senator shall receive $10 000 and each Representative $7,500 per annum In determining the balance of trade neither bullion nor coin shall be counted as an import or export Mr Dean quotes a sentiment from the Constitution of the National Grange

No people can ever become prosperous who are not self sustaining Our fertile soil exhaustless mineral wealth abundant water power and genial salubrious climate avail us nothing if annually we expend millions for subsistence

If Minister John Jay can swallow the confirmation of Thos B Van Buren, as Consul to Kanagawa he can stomach almost anything The charges which effected the removal of Mr Van Buren from the Vienna Commission are sufficiently understood and it is unnecessary to recapitulate them Van Buren was recalled in disgrace and Jay was triumphant Now Van Buren is rewarded with an easy office in a salubrious climate There will be something of an outcome to this The Senate has been studying the Vienna charges for some six or seven weeks and the confirmation of Mr Van Buren can only mean the condemnation of Mr Jay

We have received what purports to be a copy of resolutions or platform adopted at the Republican precinct meeting at Turner, Marion county We cannot comply with the request to publish, for the reason that the document has no signature attached to it, and we are left wholly without information as to its source or genuineness But for this we should be glad to publish

The Republican primary at McMinnville, last Saturday was not the most harmonious gathering that has ever been witnessed Between the opening and the closing of the meeting there was a secession of a large proportion of those in attendance. The delegation elected to the County Convention are all good men

MEETING OF THE PEOPLE'S CONVENTION

At a meeting of the People's Nominating Committee for the county of Multnomah, held at the Court House on Saturday March 21st 1874, the following, among other proceedings, were had

On motion, W S Ladd was elected President, P Wasserman Vice President and Geo Woodward Secretary

On motion, the following resolution was adopted

Resolved, That the Nominating Committee of the people of this county together with similar Committees to be sent from the other counties of the Fourth Judicial District meet in Portland on Saturday, April 11th 1874 at 11 o'clock A M, for the purpose of nominating a District Judge and District Attorney for the Fourth Judicial District

The basis of apportionment suggested will be one delegate for each seventy three votes cast for Wilson and Burnett in 1872 and one delegate for each fraction of thirty six votes or over Upon this basis the respective counties will be entitled to the following representation Clatsop 5 Columbia 4 Clackamas 20 Multnomah 44 Washington 12

The other counties composing this district are earnestly invited to send their delegations as above and where it is inconvenient for an entire delegation to attend, it is suggested that those attending be authorized by their respective counties to cast the entire vote to which the county may be entitled

[illegible] —The French brig Sch that stranded [illegible] weeks at the mouth of the [illegible] which was subsequently sold at [illegible] and which has at length been got into deep [illegible] was sold to eight persons four of [illegible] Portland After purchasing [illegible] owners began at once [illegible] from her situation of danger [illegible] attempts proved futile and [illegible] getting the vessel beyond dan[illegible] anything but flattering However [illegible] were rewarded and last Friday [illegible] worked out of her bed in the [illegible] towed into deep water [illegible] were carried some distance [illegible] and a powerful [illegible] was attached to the capstan [illegible] began to rise a number of men [illegible] to heave ahead on the cable [illegible] the vessel under a severe strain thus [illegible] had the tide risen to a height [illegible] at the vessel than she was [illegible] The slack was taken up and [illegible] forward again until deeper water was reached when she was floated off [illegible] is lying alongside the dock At present [illegible] though many of the bolts have [illegible] and the vessel more or less [illegible] in far better condition than [illegible] She leaks but little one pump was [illegible] sufficient to keep her clear All [illegible] has been stripped from the masts [illegible] somewhat dismantled It [illegible] owners will take the Sch down [illegible] where she will be placed in [illegible] dock and thoroughly overhauled and [illegible] has not yet been learned whether [illegible] towed down to [illegible] the brig [illegible] and the vessel [illegible] to San [illegible] The purchasers of the Sch have [illegible] ground to complain of their in[illegible] It has proved a paying one to all [illegible] In a few days there will be a meeting of [illegible] owners of the brig when a future course of action will be decided upon

LEFT IN THE LURCH —We learn from the Albany Register that a few weeks ago rather a handsome and genteel appearing young woman claiming to be the unmarried daughter of a [illegible] lady residing in Portland, sought and obtained employment as a seamstress in several families of Albany She said that [illegible] with [illegible] complaint [illegible] unfitted her for [illegible] and is [illegible] left there [illegible] as far as could be learned, [illegible] the cause for leaving her [illegible] Albany [illegible] vicinity of Halsey [illegible] applied to one of the householders there [illegible] for shelter for a few days, offering to pay liberally therefor She said that a few months previously she had unfortunately [illegible] united in marriage with a man who proved to be a brute [illegible] that she was forced to leave him and [illegible] shelter where she might [illegible] Her story was believed and she was furnished a home where a few hours after she gave birth to a child One day last week after she had so far recovered as to be able to go about the house she told the lady who had been so kind to her that she was going out for a few minutes and would soon return requesting her [illegible] time to look after the baby [illegible] the mother has failed to put in an appearance although anxiously looked for by the aforesaid kind and charitable lady [illegible] begins to doubt the story she told when seeking aid and comfort and the shelter of her roof It is supposed that she took the cars at Halsey for Portland where she may be sojourning at this time

LITIGATION— [illegible] —We learn from the Salem Statesman that the case of Thomas vs. Phillips was the last case decided in the Circuit Court at the term just closed and was argued by [illegible] Mayor A Shaw for plaintiff [illegible] defendant The case [illegible] Thomas well known in connection with [illegible] Carothers [illegible] deeded to John Phillips a piece of property [illegible] this city, in consideration of [illegible] the part of Phillips [illegible] support of said Thomas for the remainder of his life. Subsequently, Thomas executed to Phillips a deed to another piece of property which second deed was to be taken in lieu of the first the consideration to remain the same After accepting the second deed Phillips refused to provide the means of support as agreed, and suit was [illegible] to compel him to comply with the terms of the agreement and to have the first deed set aside and the second established [illegible] The suit was brought [illegible] and after hearing the argument the Court rendered a decree declaring the first deed valid and the second void under the agreement and deciding that defendant was bound by said agreement to furnish to plaintiff the means of support for the remainder of his natural life

HULL BEING REBUILT —Workmen have already commenced to remove the old dilapidated hull of the steamer Fannie Troup which lies on the ways at the boneyard The hull [illegible] by sections [illegible] the cabin has been [illegible] work. When the [illegible] in bars for the new keel will be [illegible] The length of the new hull [illegible] 125 feet [illegible] The beam of the boat [illegible] considerably increased and the draught [illegible] decreased Some material alterations will be made to the cabin and passenger accommodations [illegible] also to be [illegible] Both engines [illegible] been concern [illegible] at the Dalles on Saturday We [illegible] that the [illegible] be enlarged in the capacity for encountering steam material augmented Mr [illegible] contractor [illegible] have the hull [illegible] on or before the 16th of May

SAD GOT OFF.—The French brig Sidi, that stranded some weeks at the mouth of the Columbia and which was subsequently sold at auction has at length been got into deep water. She was sold to eight persons four of whom reside in Portland After purchasing the ... owners began ... to extricate her from her situation of danger For a time these attempts proved futile and the prospect of getting the vessel beyond danger was anything but flattering. However these efforts were rewarded and last Friday the Sidi was worked out of her bed in the sand, and safely towed into deep water Five large anchors were cast some distance and a ... of the brig and a powerful cable at ... of them was attached to the capstan ... When the tide began to rise a number of men commenced to heave ahead on the cable thus putting the vessel under a severe strain No sooner had the tide risen to a height sufficient to float the vessel than she was drawn ahead The slack was taken up and the brig pulled forward again until deeper water was reached when she was floated off At present the Sidi is lying alongside the dock at Astoria Although many of the bolts have been sprung and the vessel more or less strained yet she is in far better condition than was expected She leaks but little one pump being quite sufficient to keep her clear All the rigging has been stripped from the masts and the vessel looks somewhat dismantled It is probable the owners will take the Sidi down to San Francisco where she will be placed in the dry dock and thoroughly overhauled and rigged It has not yet been decided whether the brig will be towed down or temporary rigging improvised and the vessel sailed to San Francisco The purchasers of the Sidi have certainly no ground to complain of their investment. It has proved a paying one to all concerned In a few days there will be a meeting of the owners of the brig when a future course of action will be decided upon

LEFT IN THE LURCH.—We learn from the Albany Register that a few weeks ago rather a handsome and genteel appearing young woman claiming to be the unmarried daughter of a widow lady residing in Portland, sought and obtained employment as a seamstress in several families of Albany She said that she was suffering with a spinal complaint which unfitted her for doing hard labor A week or more since she suddenly left there giving no one, so far as could be learned any intimation of the cause for leaving or her point of destination It seems she went from Albany to the vicinity of Halsey and applied to one of the householders thereabouts for shelter for a few days offering to pay liberally therefor She said that a few months previously she had unfortunately for her united in marriage with a man who proved to be a brute, whose treatment of her was so cruel that she was forced to leave him and find shelter where she might Her story was believed and she was furnished a home where a few hours after she gave birth to a child One day last week after she had so far recovered as to be able to go about the house she told the lady who had been so kind to her, that she was going out for a few moments and would soon return requesting her in the meantime to look after the baby Since that time the mother has failed to put in an appearance although anxiously looked for by the aforesaid kind and charitable lady, who now begins to doubt the story she told when seeking aid and comfort and the shelter of her roof. It is supposed that she took the cars at Halsey for Portland where she may be sojourning at this time.

LITIGATION—"WRESTLING JOE"—We learn from the Salem Statesman that the case of Thomas vs Phillips was the last case decided in the Circuit Court at the term just closed and was argued on Friday by Mallory & Shaw for plaintiff, and Boise & Willis for defendant The case is one in which the plaintiff Thomas well known in connection with the celebrated Caruthers case as Wrestling Joe deeded to John Phillips a piece of property in this city, in consideration of an agreement on the part of Phillips to provide for the support of said Thomas for the remainder of his life Subsequently, Thomas executed to Phillips a deed to another piece of property, which second deed was to be taken in lieu of the first, the consideration to remain the same After accepting the second deed Phillips refused to provide the means of support as agreed, and suit was brought to compel him to comply with the terms of the agreement, and to have the first deed set aside and the second established in lieu thereof The suit was brought in equity and after hearing the argument, the Court rendered a decree declaring the first deed valid and the second void under the Agreement, and deciding that defendant was bound by said agreement to furnish to plaintiff the means of support for the remainder of his natural life

HULL BEING REBUILT.—Workmen have already commenced to remove the old dilapidated hull of the steamer Fannie Troup which lies on the ways at the boneyard The hull is being sawed out and removed by sections While this is being done the cabin has been propped up by frame work When the old hull has been removed timbers for the new keel will be laid at once. The dimensions of the new hull will be as follows Length 125 feet beam 26 feet hold [illegible] feet The beam of the boat is to be considerably increased, and the draught correspondingly decreased. Some material alterations will be made to the cabin and passenger accommodations increased The machinery is also to be thoroughly overhauled modified and improved Both engines and all the steam connections were sent to the machine shop at the Dalles, on Saturday We learn also that the boiler is to be enlarged and the capacity for engendering steam materially augmented Mr Steffen the contractor is to have the hull completed on or before the 15th of May

WORK TO COMMENCE—Work on the cistern to be constructed at the intersection of Stark and First streets, will commence in a few days and be pressed vigorously through to completion. All that delays the work at present is the non arrival of a peculiar kind of cement which will be used This material is expected to arrive from San Francisco on a sailing vessel in a few days.

UNION TEMPERANCE MEETING

In agreement with previous notice the usual services were omitted last evening in the Presbyterian Baptist Unitarian and Congregational churches in order that ministers and people might join in the [illegible]

At the Taylor Street Methodist Church which was filled long before the hour appointed for the commencement of the exercises At half past seven [illegible] available space in the large audience room of the church was filled, and hundreds went away not being able to find even standing room If the crowd is an indication of interest then there is certainly a widespread interest felt on this subject in our city

The meeting was opened by singing, after which Rev [illegible] offered prayer making an earnest appeal for the Divine guidance and blessing in the good work

THE SPEAKERS.

Rev C W Izer who was Chairman then read the 58th chapter of Isaiah and followed it with a short address setting forth the great evils of intemperance the importance and solemnity of the present hour and its responsibilities when moral power is centered on this question than ever before in the history of the temperance movement

Rev T L Eliot delivered a brief address referring to the unanimity which seems to prevail among temperance people Weeks ago he had reflected that of the many Christians and philanthropists in our city so few appeared to be taking an active interest in the great work of temperance reform but he found that others were like himself studying this question and being prepared to take hold of it in an earnest united effort He paid a high compliment to the women who were seeking by the power of tears and prayers and peaceful persuasion to relieve the land of this curse

Rev J D Eaton followed Mr Eliot in brief remarks upon the work being done in the city and the great encouragement and success which those who were engaged in it had met His address was very appropriate and calculated to awaken serious thought

Rev G H Atkinson was then introduced and made a very eloquent and fervid speech in which he showed the rise and progress of the present movement untrammeled as it is by any side issue political or otherwise the plain proposition of temperance or anti temperance was presented and upon which the people were prepared to express themselves when it was not burdened with other issues The ladies who were canvassing the city were surprised at the extent of the temperance sentiment which had been lying latent in Portland The 2 000 signatures to the pledge which had been obtained bore evidence to the fact Dr Atkinson's earnest manner clearly gained new friends to the cause and awoke deep thoughtfulness was evinced by the profound attention given to his remarks

Next came Rev A R Medbury whose speech was of the most earnest and stirring character and who is evidently entitled to be called aggressive in this war on intemperance He earnestly exhorted all who realized the importance of the hour the necessity of doing as well as talking and wishing Neutrality was denounced of old and though the church of to day had no anathema to utter it was her province to reprove those who were neutral in the great battle that is now upon the Christian world

We are unable to give reports of the several speeches but can assure those who were not present that the movement has evidently lost none of its force, for a more earnest set of leaders or a more attentive people we have seldom seen

FINANCIAL

The Chairman of the meeting stated that Mr P J Northrup was chairman of the committee appointed to examine and report upon the financial questions involved in the movement and called upon Mr Northrup for a report, but that gentleman said the committee were not yet ready to report in full but had proceeded far enough in their examination to ascertain that at least 90 per cent of the crimes for which persons were arrested in the city were the result of the use of intoxicating liquors that it cost the city $100 per day to maintain the police force principally being necessitated by the prevalence of intoxication A further report will be presented at the next meeting A collection was taken up to defray expenses of printing pledges, circulars etc The amount raised was $41 50

The citizens' pledge was read during the evening and circulated in the audience and one hundred and one persons signed it making about 2 000 signatures since Thursday afternoon

The meeting adjourned with the Doxology and benediction by Rev Mr Chattin

MEETINGS TO DAY

In pursuance of a call of the President of the Ladies' Temperance Prayer League a special meeting will be held at 10 o clock at the usual place

A general temperance prayer meeting will be held at 11 o clock A M so as not to conflict with the usual Monday prayer meeting.

The regular prayer meeting will be held at the Taylor street Church this evening commencing at 7 30 o clock The public are cordially invited to attend these meetings

ADMIRABLE DISCOURSE.

The immortal Milton has said "If the minister's part be rightly understood it renders him to the people more conscionable" The sermon delivered in the Presbyterian Church on Sunday morning by the pastor Dr Lindsley was the embodiment and fulfillment of this sacred trust And in times like the present when that demon rum threatens to strew our land with its victims the Doctor advances to the front Not judging his fellow man neither condemning him but with simplicity and [illegible] truth [illegible] applied to each and every one [illegible] text formed the basis of the discourse

Let us not therefore judge one another any more but judge this rather that no man put a stumbling block or an occasion to fall in his brother's way—Romans xiv 13

Which was expounded in a manner which if listened to by any conscience-accused hearers must certainly awake such to the terrible responsibility that await them in the Church and out of it Yet how much more telling must be this appeal to those who celebrate Christ's love around the sacramental board and again are found at seats around the card table and whose presence too frequently lends sanction to theaters and places where Christian sentiments would be deemed abrupt intruders It is, indeed refreshing to persons outside the pale of the Church to know that this nineteenth century has witnessed the advent of ministers of the gospel of Christ who dare to stand in their pulpit armed with the [illegible] of unveiled truth and from these [illegible] ramparts hurl shot and hell both thick and fast into the ranks of [illegible] privilege until the church of Christ shall awake to a higher and holier calling thus purifying itself and removing the frequent stain which it is called to bear

A petition was read from J A Dougherty and others asking that cows might be allowed to run at large in certain portions of the city The petition was placed on file

SCIENTIFIC AND SAFE TREATMENT.

When applied with Dr Pierce's Nasal Douche and accompanied with Dr Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery as constitutional treatment, Dr Sage's Catarrh Remedy procures perfect cures of the worst cases of Catarrh and Ozena of many years standing This thorough course of medication constitutes the only scientific rational safe and successful manner of treating this odious disease that has ever been offered to the afflicted So successful has it proven that the proprietor has long offered a standing reward of $500 for a case of Catarrh which he cannot cure

INDISPUTABLE EVIDENCE

[illegible] of South Brooklyn N Y writes that his wife had suffered since a child with Catarrh until it had resulted in what eminent physicians pronounced Consumption that she has used Dr Sage's Catarrh Remedy with Dr Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and they have worked wonders with her case.

STEALING OUR THUNDER

People should beware of the imposters who not only try to imitate Dr Pierce's Family Medicines but also copy his original style of advertising them offering variously sized remedies for cases of Catarrh and other diseases which they can not cure Those who do not possess sufficient ability [illegible] to write original advertisements of their own but have to steal those of others are not likely to have made great and valuable discoveries in Medicine [illegible]

EVICTED

[illegible]

It wasn't much of a place, you say,
And I needn't be breakin' our heart about it;
That true it was poor enough every way,
But what are we going to do without it?
[illegible]
And the home of the poor [illegible]
[illegible] the heart must [illegible]
That takes what the [illegible] world can't rest [illegible]
us

When times were better and I was young,
Before the famine and [illegible] ever,
It's many a merry old song was sung
Within the walls that are gone forever;
It's many a frolicsome [illegible]
Strong [illegible] and [illegible] all glittering there
Beside the hearth where [illegible] content
Made pleasant the wildest wintry weather

It was there our simple marriage feast
Was spread [illegible]
With the neighbors round and the blessed priest
And the smile of friendship beaming brightly
And it was there our first poor [illegible]
Hush, Mary alannah, don't be cryin'
Sure Heaven is just, and the best are tried)
There, where the rafters now are lyin'

When lords and ladies, the great and high,
Were wastin' riches in mirth and riot,
And men and women were left to die
For food, not havin' wherewith to buy it,
Then gaunt-faced hunger was often there,
And sickness, sorrow, and sore denial,
The pain that follows the steps of care,
And many a bitter and darksome trial

But still through all that was [illegible]
Some comfort ever remained to cheer us—
A roof to shelter the achin' head,
And the [illegible] childher always near us
But now, ah now, with the childher gone,
To the lands where the old may be forsaken,
And the home a ruin of thatch and stone,
Is it strange our hearts are almost breakin'?

God pity the poor! it's many a load
Fate bids them carry, though weak and weary,
Along a rugged and cheerless road
That fades in future dim and dreary,
And heaven have mercy on the great
When splendor, station, wealth and power
All darkly vanish, and soon or late,
At the dreadful Judgment Seat they cower

"CURLEY MARSHALL'S BOYS"—A KANSAS STORY

One evening, before Wichita, Kansas, had realized its hopes of securing a permanent place upon the map—so long ago, in fact, as the spring of 1871—a gentleman from New York registered his name at the Harris House, and announced his intention of stopping a few days in order to see the country, and perhaps to buy some land in the neighborhood. After dinner he sought out the landlord, and made a special request that, as he was an Eastern man in search of experiences, he might have a buffalo steak served for his breakfast next morning

"Buffalo steak?"

"Yes. It is obtainable, isn't it? You can get it here? I'd be willing to pay for any extra trouble, you know"

"Oh, no trouble. Fact is, I've not been able to get anything else for a week or two past. I was just going to apologize for having given it to you at dinner"

The Eastern man looked as if he thought himself sold, but still stuck to his request, because he wanted to know how buffalo meat tasted when he was not wrestling with it under false impression that it was Texas cow. And then finding the landlord sociable (for no more genial host than Rouse ever made his house pleasant for his guests at his own loss), he asked if the town was quiet and orderly

"Oh yes, perfectly so. You Eastern men fancy that we are overrun with desperadoes out here, but you'll find Wichita just as peaceful as a man could wish."

At this point the conversation was brought to a close by the irruption of a party of noisy men, of whom the landlord explained to his guest, as he went to them, that they were "some of Curley Marshall's boys"

"And who is Curley Marshall?" asked the Eastern man of a bystander as he sat down in a vacant chair.

"Curley is one of our celebrities," was the reply. "He is to Wichita very much what Buffalo Bill is to Abilene. Fine fellow he is, too."

But "the boys" approached, and the bystander incidentally moved away without finishing his eulogy, while the new-comers surrounded the sitter before he was fully aware of the situation, and then he thought he would not seem in a hurry to get away. When, however, two of them began to practice broadsword parries over his head with loaded revolvers of the "navy" pattern, he changed his mind about the order of his going, and slipped out from between them just as "Long Dan," growing tired of the fun, cocked his revolver, and, leveling it at his friend's head, said briefly, "Get out of this! That's the door"

The other weakened a moment, and looked at Dan doubtedly

"I mean it, by G—! You git, or I'll plug you" He did "git"

There was laughter from the boys as Dan looked grimly triumphant and invited them into the bar-room on his "shout" "Come on, stranger!" said he to the Eastern man, seeing that the latter did not start forward. But the Eastern man asked to be excused, pleading that he didn't drink

"Don't drink? You wont drink with me? Do you mean to insult me?"

"No, sir, no—surely not. But I never drink"

"Look here, stranger! I don't like to have a men to say that he is too good to drink with me. I'm Long Dan Cowee," and the speaker looked dangerous

Eastern man thought he had better drink

He lagged last in the crowd, however and, satisfied that his absence would not be noted, stole out of the back door and hung round the kitchen until "the boys" should have gone. Presently he thought he heard them in the street, and looked round the corner of the house to see. There came a bright flash, right in his eyes, a report and a handful of shot rattled against the fence near him, while with a yell the boys went on down the street, discharging their pistols into the air.—Lippincott's Magazine for March

"WHAT PHRASE SAD AND SORE?"—The Selma Times, in its mild, sad way makes some allusions to the Philadelphia Centennial. Says the Times: "The idea of any Southern State being represented in the exhibition is repulsive to us. To mingle with Yankee doodledum on such an occasion and see them luxuriating in the wealth stolen from us is more of a diet than we care to feast on. To go there in our poverty and rags, as compared to the plunder enriched North, would be in our judgment about as appropriate as a country boor, in copperas pants, with seat patched with a different color, and red brogans, at a first-class drawing-room entertainment. To look at South Carolina and join the Centennial, is more than our Southern blood can stand, even though we tried to 'shake hands over the bloody chasm,' and voted for Greeley. To look at Mississippi, in her down-trodden position with an ignorant negro ass as Speaker of the House, and a negro as President of the Senate, is well calculated to make a man shout peans to the glory of the Centennial at Philadelphia. To see Louisiana in her present status inspires great admiration for the ruling spirits of the day, and makes a Southern man feel that he is in duty bound to be on hand at the great humbug—just one notch above the Boston jubilee"

AUTOPSY ON SENATOR SUMNER'S BODY.—A Boston dispatch of March 16th says. The autopsy on the body of Senator Sumner was made this morning. A portion of the left carotid artery was considerably ossified, and some other abnormal conditions were found in the heart. Nothing abnormal was found in the brain or other organs. Dr Brown Sequard says no trace of the effect of Brooks' assault were found in the brain. There is a very general suspension of business to-day

[illegible] that depreciated paper [illegible] the interests of trade. Mr Webster [illegible] ago said [illegible] than that which deludes them with paper money [illegible] their lightly on the happiness of the mass of the community [illegible] depreciated paper. Our own history has recorded [illegible] more than enough of the demoralizing tendency [illegible] and the intolerable oppression on the virtuous and the will [illegible] of a degraded paper currency authorized or in any way countenanced by the Government

[illegible] the wonderful elasticity of our people [illegible] constantly changing [illegible] is the permanent influence [illegible] existing wrongs. If we are to have an increase in our circulating medium would it not be better to have an increase of the National Bank currency and [illegible] banking system until [illegible] another issue of greenbacks with [illegible] resumption direct or remote

A petition has been presented to Congress from the leading financial institutions and business men of New York in which is expressed alarm at the assumption of the Secretary of the Treasury of the right to issue new United States notes without the sanction of law and protesting against the issue of irredeemable paper money, characterizing it as a forced loan only justifiable in times of war and requesting Congress to put an immediate stop to the further issue of greenbacks by the Secretary of the Treasury and to make arrangements by the negotiation of bonds or otherwise to call in and cancel at once every dollar of the so called reserve which has thus far been issued. With such a petition before them representing the various business interests it is to be hoped that a truce will be had to the present and past inaction and that our legislators will be impressed with the necessity of taking some steps to settle the matter

The Panama Star of the 12th ult says. The month of January has been attended with terribly bad weather, such as has not been experienced in Costa Rica for many years. It has not in any way delayed the works on the road though unfavorable to agriculture. The coffee crop notwithstanding is estimated at 1[illegible]0 000 quintals and brings at Punta Arenas from $[illegible] the quintal which is an unprecedented high price.

Financial agents of the United States in London reported by the last advices that they had exchanged about five millions and would end them with what they had got up to the time of shipment, by the steamer City of Brussels now arrived. This will about close out the loan but the Federal debt will only have been diminished $[illegible]420 000 by the operation. With $1[illegible]000 000 gold lying idle not earning a cent in the United States Treasury a debt of $1[illegible]600 000 has been renewed at five per cent interest. If paid off in ten years the whole amount to be paid will be $2[illegible]600 000 in gold for the sake of letting $1[illegible]000,000 be idle in the vaults of the Treasury

The United States loan of $20 000 000 six per cent stock which fell due January 1st principal and interest, has been discharged mostly by giving new five per cent bonds for the old ones. In December last Congress passed an act authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury to exchange the five per cent funding bonds of the loan of 18[illegible] for either registered or coupon bonds of the loan of 1858, or to redeem the coupon bonds in coin if the holders desired. The holders of registered bonds converted them readily, because the 1870 bonds are more desirable interest being paid on them quarterly in gold. Interest ceased on all coupon bonds February 1st

The mint of Philadelphia had received for recoinage since New Year's day to February 28th $1[illegible] 6[illegible]3 50 in light weight coin, the loss upon which by abrasion was $11 991 57

The sale of $3 000 000 gold ordered at the New York Sub Treasury for the month of March is accepted on all hands as fixing the intentions of the Administration, and as making the prospect of more greenbacks still more uncertain than the protracted debates in Congress have made it. In taking this step and resuming gold sales after an intermission of six months the Treasury has in the plainest manner notified the country to expect no further issues of the so called legal tender reserve unless Congress shall positively order the notes issued

Puget Sound Exports and Imports

The Port Townsend Argus has procured some interesting figures from the Collector of Customs concerning the imports and exports of the District of Puget Sound for the year 187[illegible], which we reproduce below

Value of exports from Puget Sound to foreign countries during the year 1873

In American vessels	$[illegible] 41[illegible]
In foreign vessels	2[illegible]0 184
Total	$[illegible]1 600
These exports consisted of viz
In American vessels—
1[illegible] 000 ft assd lumber	$185 0[illegible]0
Live stock, grain, provisions, etc	1[illegible]7 [illegible]
	$[illegible] 16
In foreign vessels—
18[illegible] 000 ft assd lumber	$1[illegible] [illegible]
Live stock, grain &c	[illegible] 2[illegible]3
	$2[illegible]0 184

The foregoing does not exhibit the exportation of lumber from Puget Sound to San Francisco and other domestic ports as it is mainly transported in licensed vessels which do not enter and clear nor make any official report. It is estimated that between forty and fifty different vessels are so employed, carrying from Puget Sound during each year 1[illegible]0 000 000 feet of lumber valued at about $2 000 000

The value of direct foreign imports for 1873 amounted to $31 725

The importations from San Francisco by vessels nearly all of which are licensed, is estimated to exceed $2 000 000 per annum

LINN COUNTY

THE GOOD CAUSE MOVING ON

ALBANY March [illegible] 1874

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

I see but little in your paper in reference to the Independent movement in Linn county. I hope you do not suppose the movement is not being carried forward here. The people of this county were not in the best humor to be trifled with and the proceedings of the Democratic State Convention added very greatly to their discontent. Of course the Democracy of Linn or most of them were willing to see our fellow townsman Mart Brown nominated for State Printer. He is a pretty good fellow and would as well have the office as for anybody else to have it provided always that in order to give it to him, we did not have to countenance the trickery that gave them [illegible] to [illegible] their candidates. But under the present circumstances I hear a great many Democrats say they are resolved to support an independent ticket if a good one is put in the field. This county has always been regarded as the banner county of Democracy [illegible] give a handsome majority [illegible] the Independent ticket. There are [illegible] among the Independents [illegible] increasing daily in numbers and [illegible]
